In the Path of America's Ship of State Pointed Out by Cardinal.

Eminent Churchman Does Not Use Ambiguous Language in Condemnation

Declares Divorced People Who Remarry Are Guilty of Real Polygamy.

AGAINST MANLINEES IN WOMEN

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, gave an authoritative interview last Saturday to the duly accredited representative of several of the leading secular daily journals of the United States, and Protestant as well as Catholic may well weigh his warning. The correspondent had been directed to ask the Cardinal whether the Christian Science and New Thought movements were retarding the growth of the Catholic church in America.

"The Catholic church," answered the Cardinal, "is no more incumbered with the recentisms and exotericisms that seem to thrive, each for a time within America, than it has been at any time during all the centuries since St. Peter. The position of the Catholic church in reference to modern scientists may be thus summarized: The church fosters and encourages every department of science, but just because she is the friend of true science she is opposed to all false pretensions of science.

"The pathway is strewn with the wreck of many and imposing scientific theories which once found favor in the opinion of man. And such will ever be the fate of the wild speculations and unfounded assertions that impugn the truth of revelation. They may float for a time on the human mind like huge icebergs drifting along the ocean's current, chilling the atmosphere and carrying destruction in their path but, like the false theories before them, they are designed to melt away beneath the diligent rays of reason and revelation, while 'The truth of the Lord remaineth forever.'"

"Your Eminence, what are the most serious problems confronting the American people at the present time?"

YOUNGER SET

Of Hibernians Show Ability to Do Things in Style.

State President Butler, President Keenan, of Division 1, and various other Hibernians of the older school are now thoroughly satisfied that the younger element is thoroughly able to take care of itself, and this satisfaction was brought about through the ball given at the Galt House Tuesday night. The affair was under the joint auspices of Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary and the result was most pleasing to all concerned.

About a month ago Division 1, the pioneer Hibernian body in Louisville, determined to give an entertainment of some kind immediately after the ansterities of Lent had passed, and the younger members wanted a ball. The elders let them have their way, but not without some misgivings. Charles Finegan, Thomas Lawler and Thomas Keenan were appointed on a committee to arrange for the affair, and through their efforts the Ladies' Auxiliary was interested. Misses Mary Coreoran, Hattie Higgins and Nellie Nolan were selected as a committee to act with the delegation from Division 1.

Developments followed rapidly. The Galt House was secured for Easter Tuesday night, a splendid orchestra was employed, and the affair was thoroughly advertised. The Hibernians and ladies did the rest. About 175 couples were on hand when the grand march was played. State President and Mrs. George J. Butler led the way into the big hall, and the always attractive salon was never more artistically illuminated and decorated. It was like a vision of fairyland, and all who saw were won. In its praise. From then until the close, soon after midnight, the dancers enjoyed themselves, and the parents of many of the young people were present and were as interested as the youngsters.

The ball was a credit to the Hibernians as a whole, and to the members of Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary in particular. It has given all four divisions greater confidence and more such affairs will certainly follow. There was only one cause for regret, Charles Finegan, Chairman of the committee that arranged the ball, has been confined to his home by rheumatism, and was unable to be present and receive his share of the congratulations showered on his colleagues.

HARD BUMPS

Seem to Be in Store For City Administration and Its Friends.

Real Republicans Are Not in Sympathy With Mayor Grinstead.

Effort to Saddle Additional Burden on Taxpayers Opposed.

PLACE FOR POST'S MAN FRIDAY

The city administration and its organ are receiving fresh jolts every day. The real, dyed-in-the-wool Republicans are disgusted, and if the Democrats put up a clean ticket there will be no doubt about the result in November. Mr. Grinstead is ineligible to succeed himself. The Court of Appeals in the case of the City Treasurer of Paducah decided this very point a few months ago, but what is a decision of the Court of Appeals to City Attorney Blakey and Mayor Grinstead?

Mayor Grinstead still has the support of the Louisville Evening Post, but the Herald, the real Republican organ, has recently taken some awful falls out of the Mayor and the Post's editor.

In order to hold what little strength he has, the Mayor and his colleagues expect to oust all of the employees of the Sinking Fund and to appoint Grinstead headmen in their stead. Lewis Humphrey, City Hall reporter for the Louisville Post, it is rumored, will be the Chief License Inspector under the new regime. This plum will go to Lewis, so it is said, to insure the friendship of the Belknaps, with whom he is allied.

The new ordinance offered by the Board of Safety putting an additional burden on the taxpayers will doubtless have a hard row to travel before it becomes a law, if it ever does. To saddle an additional burden of $35,000 on the people is too much for some councilmen, to say nothing of Duff Reed and his in-laws. Mr. Reed believes it is sufficient to guard the city if properly managed. There are many taxpayers who are not in sympathy with him. But if the city fathers insist on putting on more taxes, they will have to pay for them.

Scotland, martial, melodious and rollicking.

MORE MEMBERS

Are Hustling Into the Ranks of Division 4, of A. O. H.

President John H. Hennessy presided over a rousing meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday night, and it was strictly business from start to finish. John M. Brennan and Frank Sullivan were proposed for membership; Fergus Mooney was obligated and Michael Gilmore and Thomas J. Garvey were elected to membership. Mr. Garvey has for years been a hustler in the ranks of the Y. M. I. John M. Brennan was formerly a member of Division 4, but has been absent from the city for several years.

The Visiting Committee reported that Jerry Hallahan was still confined to his home with an injured foot, and that Lawrence Meaney, Patrick Kenney, James Lyons and John E. Browne were on the sick list. William P. McDonogh, John Winn and Dave Reilly were appointed on a committee to prepare appropriate resolutions on the death of John E. Martin, and the members of the division offered prayers for the repose of his soul.

Treasurer Harry Brady and Financial Secretary W. P. McDonogh submitted their reports for the first quarter. Both reports showed that Division 4 was sound financially and numerically. During the first three months of the present year $50 was paid out in sick claims in addition to one death claim. The officers' reports were referred to the Auditing Committee. It was announced that Attorney Newton G. Rogers would deliver an address at the next meeting, April 26.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Annie Joyce died at the family residence, 618 Fulton street, Monday night, and her funeral took place from St. Michael's church Wednesday morning. She was the beloved wife of Martin Joyce and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

The funeral of Henry Junker, who died at the family residence, Sixteenth and Madison streets, Sunday night, took place from St. Mary's church Wednesday morning, and was largely attended by old friends and acquaintances. The deceased was forty years old, and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moyle, sixty-seven years old, died at the family residence, 2640 Bismarck avenue, Sunday night, and her funeral took place from St. Charles Borromeo's church Tuesday morning. The deceased is well known in the city.

PRAYED FOR

When He Intended Praying For the Souls of Many Others.

Rev. Father Slinger Met Death While Preparing For Mass.

Died As He Lived Doing Work of His Divine Master.

FACTOR IN LOUISVILLE PROGRESS

To die as one lives, if he has been doing the work of the Master, is the greatest glory of the Christian. Such a work and such a death was that of Rev. Father J. H. Slinger, O. F. M., of St. Vincent Ferrer's convent, New York, on Easter Sunday morning. Death came suddenly and unexpectedly while Father Slinger was preparing to say mass in the chapel of the Little Sisters of the Poor, some distance away from his convent. The Dominicans of New York flashed the news over the wires to their several communities in the United States, and the priest who was to have celebrated mass was prayed for in every Dominican community from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean.

Father Slinger was an important factor in the upbuilding of Louisville, but few there are who are now alive and remember him here. He came to this city, a young priest, in 1866, and it was he who selected the site for the present St. Louis Bertrand church and its surrounding properties, the parochial school and convent. It was just after the war and that part of the city was still a wilderness. In his prophetic eye he saw what was in store for the faithful Irish families, and at his suggestion the land was secured. He was sent to other missions and was never back long enough to realize the fruition of his early hopes for Limerick.

Father Slinger was born at Zanesville, Ohio, December 12, 1839, and received his early education in that State. He entered the Dominican novitiate at the age of seventeen, and was ordained about seven years later. After successfully establishing the Dominicans in Louisville on a permanent site he was sent to other missions, but the greater part of his life work was spent at St. Vincent Ferrer's, New York. He was Prior, pastor, director of the Sunday school, preacher, lecturer and writer. He wrote a catechism for advanced students that attracted attention throughout the country. He was the first to introduce the stereopticon in religious lessons. It seemed to him that the stereopticon was a new and better way of teaching religion. For several years he was in charge of the religious instruction of the children of the city.

All Ireland is preparing for a "home coming" of its exiles, their children and their children's children, during the summer of 1910. The railroads and the steamship companies have promised to make special rates, and each of the larger cities in Ireland will hold carnivals of strictly Irish character.

The "home coming" is the idea of James J. Kilkeny, a native of Ireland, but for the last fifty years a resident of Washington. He went to Washington as a Congressman and later as a wealthy attorney. Mr. Kilkeny is a professed Irish nationalist and a

NOTED PAINTING

Appears to Have Been Saved From Earthquake by Miracle.

One of the many beautiful works of art in the Cathedral of Messina was the magnificent "Madoana of the Rosary" by Antonello. When the Cathedral fell in ruins several months ago as the result of the earthquake that decimated Sicily, the handsome painting was counted as lost.

The clouds of smoke and dust had scarcely cleared away from trembling Messina when Prof. Salinas, curator of the Art Museum at Palermo, hurried to the spot to try to recover such fragments of art as the earthquake might have spared. This famous Antonello was what he hoped for most earnestly. It was difficult even to find what had been the Museum, and was still more difficult to penetrate that vast heap of stone and plaster which covered its site. But Prof. Salinas and his assistants went carefully to work with pickaxes and spades and at last, through a crevice between two fallen walls, they caught sight of the spot where the masterpiece had hung. A mass of fallen walls covered it. But they dug on until they had penetrated the gallery itself and there, to their immense joy, they found that a wall in falling toward the Antonello had struck the wall above it and remained intact, thus forming a great protective screen, behind which hung the treasure undamaged.

It required careful work to remove this screen of shaking masonry, but the task was accomplished, and the picture was taken down, packed and shipped to a safer place.

"The Madonna of the Rosary" is a triptych and the panels on either side are occupied by the figures of St. Gregory and St. Benedict, and above these are two smaller panels, half figures of the Annunciation and an angel. The central upper panel has been missing for many years.

This painting of Antonello's is interesting from a technical as well as from an artistic standpoint, for Antonello disputes with Van Eyck the honor of discovering the art of painting in oils, and this is believed to have been the last picture he painted in tempera—that is, with liquid colors directly upon plaster. The best belief of critics is that Antonello learned the art of oil painting from Van Eyck.

GRAND IDEA.

Plans Being Perfected For Big Irish Home Coming.

All Ireland is preparing for a "home coming" of its exiles, their children and their children's children, during the summer of 1910. The railroads and the steamship companies have promised to make special rates, and each of the larger cities in Ireland will hold carnivals of strictly Irish character.

The "home coming" is the idea of James J. Kilkeny, a native of Ireland, but for the last fifty years a resident of Washington. He went to Washington as a Congressman and later as a wealthy attorney. Mr. Kilkeny is a professed Irish nationalist and a

OPPORTUNITY

For Ireland Seems to Be Close at Hand Unless All Signs Fail.

Noted Correspondent Claims That Irish Party Holds the Key.

Retirement of William O'Brien Still Cause For Sincere Congratulation.

JOHN BULL AFRAID OF GERMANY

Ireland's opportunity seems to be at hand, and as a result Hon. John E. Redmond and his colleagues are jubilant, but the British Ministry is trembling in the balance. Hon. T. P. O'Connor in his Easter letter to the Chicago Tribune says:

"The real pitched battles in Parliament will begin after Easter. The Government's programme is at once provocative and too big. The Welsh disestablishment, the radical budget, and the Birrell land bill can not possibly all pass, and there is a certain apprehension that the Government may offend some section of its supporters by dropping one of their bills, but still I think the prospects of Birrell's bill are hopeful. Ireland holds the key to the situation. If the bill is defeated or postponed an outburst of cattle driving worse than ever will make Birrell's position impossible and Birrell does not conceal his intention of resigning if his bill is postponed. The chances of the bill look even better this week than last, owing to the extraordinary transformation of the Irish situation by O'Brien's disappearance."

Concerning the retirement of William O'Brien from active politics the able editor of the Dundalk Democrat says:

"William O'Brien's resignation of his seat in Parliament and the announcement of his retirement from active politics have caused infinite relief to all Irishmen genuinely interested in the progress of the national cause. As the leader of a Parliamentary section outside the party, and of an organization opposed to the United Irish League, he could have done no good but much harm to a cause we believe he has honestly at heart. We should like to believe that O'Brien recognized this fact himself in time, and that his retirement was dictated by a spirit of generous self-denial and a resolve not to stand in the way of national unity."

The Welsh by-election showed that Wales is still unbroken in the allegiance to the Liberals, and the Scotch by-election this week is expected to show a similar result, and these events dash the hope of a large Tory majority after the next election. Vague unrest is underneath the apparent holiday humor in Great Britain. Commenting on this feature of European unrest O'Connor says:

"John Bull's hatred of Germany still receives daily nourishment by the yellow press, and the announcement that Austria is building a gigantic Dreadnaught, following the German triumph over Russia and England in the Balkan trouble, adds another disquieting item, the military and naval forces of Austria and Germany being now practically one. From the whole of the recent imbroglio the figure of the German Emperor stands out in bolder relief than as more formidable, more tenacious, more uncertain, and more powerful than any in Europe, and the long and bitter struggle, between England and Germany, is now all

THOUGHTFUL SUGGESTION.

The boys in the Democratic trenches are getting impatient. They want the fighting to begin at once. Thus far they feel that there has not been even a skirmish with the common enemy, the Republican party. It is votes that will count, and the Democrats need every vote they can muster. The wise level-heads want a primary, and one at an early date. Some of the strongest Democrats have put forward this suggestion:

"Let us have a primary under the Carrol law. Let it be provided for by the Democratic State Central Committee, not the District Committee, and let that body appoint Hon. J. T. O'Neal, or some other disinterested Democrat, at least one who has no axe to grind, to preside over it, with the understanding that he will appoint one Democrat in the East and one in the West End of this district to supervise the arrangements. In this way an absolutely fair primary will be guaranteed, and every candidate from Mayor to School Trustee will get a square deal.

GERMANS STILL DOMINANT.

The European war clouds are still flying, and in this connection the correspondent of a very conservative American Journal writes under London date:

"Germany can do as she likes in Europe today without firing a shot. This situation, however, is certain to undergo a radical change. Great Britain is aroused as never before, and the present Government will not last long. France will speedily pull herself together after the solution of her internal crisis. Russia is stirred to the depths and her anger will prove the best possible stimulant for the rapid development of her enormous resources.

"Any definite prophecy would be absurd, but it is almost axiomatic to say that European politics will be a dominant factor in history during the next three or four years. Already there are reports of two new moves of the utmost importance by Germany. She is urging Turkey to join the triple alliance, and although English diplomatists profess no anxiety over this scheme's possible success, it can not be said that the new Turkish Government's policy is so definitely pro-English that such a thing is impossible."

CRIME OF BLASPHEMY.

The present public school system is held responsible by Cardinal Gibbons for the increase in blasphemy and profane oaths. He says: "A Godless system of education is a pagan system in its results. Such a system brings about a lack of respect and reverence for the sacred things of life. This lack of due respect and reverence on the part of men, women and children may become a national malady. The constant swearing on the part of men is a sign of this malady."

is an old adage, and one that the United States has certainly been adhering to since the Spanish-American imbroglio of eleven years ago. Our country has a splendid navy and is making it better. More than that the army ranks are full with 77,000 men. No more recruits are needed. Let us hope that it will be long ere they are needed.

One can gain some idea of the immensity of the United States when he considers that Louisville enjoyed delightful spring weather last week, while New York was in the throes of a cold spell. Last Saturday and early this week the ice jam in Niagara river extended over fourteen miles, and great damage was done to neighboring property.

FRENCH PILGRIMS

Will Swarm in Rome at Canonization of Joan of Arc.

The hotels keepers of Rome are worried over the approaching advent of 40,000 French pilgrims, who will visit the Eternal City this month to be present at the canonization of Joan of Arc. The advance guard has already arrived, and many find difficulty in securing quarters.

The ceremony will be marked by an extraordinary gathering of the French hierarchy. More than sixty French Bishops will be present at St. Peter's to witness the glorification of the Maid of Orleans.

It is noteworthy that it is several centuries since so many French Bishops have assembled here. It is not true, however, that the Pope intends to convene them as a national council for the regulation of the ecclesiastical affairs of France. They will be consulted individually by the Pope and the Cardinal Secretary of State, and thus be able to give an indication to the Roman authorities regarding the situation of the church of France.

MADE AMENDS.

Convert Spent Years Counteracting His Early Writings.

Monsignor Isaac A. Henderson, one of the most distinguished American residents of Rome, died early last week, says the correspondent of the New York Herald. He was well known as an author and playwright.

He became a Catholic many years ago and spent a large part of his fortune endeavoring to call in the many books which he had previously written attacking religion. He was the only resident American priest belonging to the Papal Curia who held the office of Secretary of the Cape and Sword Society, a mass celebration of the feast of St. Andrew the Apostle, which was held in the city of Rome.

Miss Margaret Murphy, of St. Louis, and James Connelly, a popular young locomotive engineer for the L. and N. railroad, will be united in matrimony at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock next Monday morning. The Rev. Father James P. Cronin officiating. After the mass Mr. and Mrs. Connelly will start for New Orleans and other Southern points to spend a fortnight's bridal tour. On their return they will begin housekeeping at 3015 Third avenue. Miss Murphy is a native of Ireland, but she has lived in St. Louis for several years. Mr. Connelly has received many congratulations on winning such a charming bride.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season will be that which will unite Miss Julia Frances West and J. Raymond Barrett in holy matrimony. The ceremony will be solemnized at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday, April 28. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will hold a reception for their friends at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Minnie West, 1064 Everett avenue. Later in the evening the happy couple will leave for Cincinnati, Washington and other Eastern points. The bride-elect is the charming daughter of Mrs. Minnie West. Is an accomplished musician and has been much admired in Catholic society circles. The fortunate groom is a member of the firm of John J. Barrett's Sons, funeral directors.

MAKING GOOD.

Colonels' Showing Thus Far Enthusies the Fans.

The local baseball season was opened in a blaze of glory Wednesday afternoon at Eclipse Park and the Colonels made good by trouncing Billy Clymer's strong Columbus team. There had been a little doubt in the ball fans' minds as to the prospects of our team, but happily that has been dispelled by the excellent showing the team has made in the Columbus games. The Louisville public is hungry for good baseball and will show their appreciation by big attendance if given the same, and it looks like the management has met them half way in endeavoring to get a team together that will be a credit to the city and a contender for the pennant flag.

Manager Heinie Pietz has infused a lot of ginger into his team-mates and they seem to be putting forth their best efforts to win, which is all that can be expected. Tate, Quinlan and Woodruff can be depended upon to pull off many a pretty play this season, and their headwork will be of great assistance to Pietz in the infield. A big crowd will be out to see Toledo today and tomorrow.

AMERICAN INFLUX
 At Rome But Very Few Were Granted Audiences
 by Pius X.

According to advices from American correspondents in Rome, that city was fairly teeming with American visitors last week, but as it was Holy Week only a few were received in audience by Pius X. From Wednesday until Easter Sunday he passed in retirement. On Wednesday His Holiness granted a private audience to a small party of Brooklynites, consisting of Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin, who some time ago received the title Marchioness for her many benefactions to the church; her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Courtenay, and their daughter, Miss C. Courtenay; Master H. McLaughlin, Miss Anna O'Connor and Miss Martinock.

The Pope was particularly gracious to the American Marchioness on being told that she had crossed the Atlantic to see him and receive his blessing. He not only thanked her affectionately, but gave her a gold medal, and at the request of the party also gave her his white skull cap as a souvenir. The party was presented by Bishop Kennedy, Rector of the American College. It was afterward received in audience by the Cardinal Secretary of State.

ENTIRE COMMUNITY
 Forsakes Anglicanism to Enter the True Church in England.

The following special telegram to the Cincinnati Enquirer appeared on Easter Sunday: "The announcement that the entire community of the Anglican Convent in Bloomsbury has been received into the church of Rome has aroused intense interest. There has been a strong difference of opinion among Anglicans as to the wisdom of blessing conventual bodies, but high church men assert that the church of Rome has no stronger religious opponents than themselves. From time to time there have been individual cases of Anglican Sisters going over to the Roman church, but it is impossible to recall a case in which a whole community has gone over by common agreement. They have received permission to retain their habit, and their patron saint will still continue to be St. Katherine, whose emblem, by the way, is a wheel."

HOPKINS' THEATER.
 Vaudeville sketches will divide honors with the motion pictures hereafter at Hopkins' Theater, and Manager Dustin promises his patrons good, clean shows. There will be four high class vaudeville turns every day and each act will be given twice in the afternoon and twice in the evening. The motion pictures and illustrated songs will remain at their present high standard.

LONDON CRIME INCREASES.
 According to statistics furnished the House of Commons by Sir Edward Henry, London's Chief Police Commissioner, crime is on the increase in England, and Sir Edward wants 2,000 more police in London. His present force is made up of 18,238 men. He also wants more detectives and men who are better educated than his present sleuths.

NEEDS THE MEDAL.
 Maurice Conner, a bill poster of Altoona, Pa., believes he is entitled to a medal from the Anti-Race Suicide Society. The stark brought the twenty-seventh baby to his home last week. The entire family is enjoying good health.

BANQUET AND DANCE.
 Frankfurt has no council of the Knights of Columbus, but the Knights have a club there, and on Wednesday night the members entertained their friends with a banquet and dance.

MEMORIAL CHAPEL.
 Channery O'Leary, the sweet Irish-American singer, has made a donation to the Catholic Church Extension Society to be used in erecting a chapel in memory of his deceased mother.

MILE OF PENNIES.
 The Queen's Daughters of Providence, R. I., have undertaken to collect a mile of pennies in aid of the Nazareth Home and the Carter Day Nursery.

FRANKFORT.
 Lambert Young Connell, Y. M. I. of Frankfort, gave an enjoyable dance on Easter Monday night. It was both a social and financial success.

REFORM IS NECESSARY.
 Pittsburg people recently elected a Catholic Mayor by the overwhelming majority of 30,000, and much needed reforms are expected to be carried out.

SPREADING THE LIGHT.
 Fifteen business men of Portage, Wis., have guaranteed a complete set of the Catholic Encyclopedia to the public library of that town.

THE DEADLY CIGARETTE.
 "If all the boys could be made to know," writes Hudson Maxim, the high-explosive expert, "that with every breath of cigarette smoke they inhale imbecility and exhibit manhood; that they are tapping their arteries as surely and letting their life's blood out as truly as though their veins and arteries were severed; and that the cigarette is a maker of invalids, criminals and fools—not men—it ought to deter them soon. The yellow finger stain is an emblem of deeper degradation and enslavement than the law and chain." Our boys, we trust, will not touch the deadly thing.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Skeleton bodies are popular. The Japanese wash silks are lovelier than ever.

Coats for girls' suits are plain and almost straight. Most of the new crepe blouses are inset with Irish crochet lace.

Belts will match the skirts instead of the waists this season. Pretty little neck bows are made of colored open work embroidery.

Sleeves are longer and flatter and they closely follow the lines of the arm. On many of the new ribbons, just arrived, checks play a prominent part.

Swiss embroidery, whether hand done on machine, gives excellent effect. The plaid suit or skirted plaid skirt has been adopted by leaders of Paris fashion.

Some of the colored linens for suits have a pin stripe of white through them. A charming finish to the waist is the lace known as the directoire made of crochet lace.

Glimpes are made of cambric, a pleasant change after the too frequent use of net. The Irish crochet buttons will be in greatest evidence on the spring and summer gowns.

Skirts are a little fuller and plaits are coming back gradually, particularly those set in at the side. Pretty plaids of modest size, bordered with plain color, are among the new spring goods designed for children.

It is as nearly certain as styles are that the coming season will not be an all white one. Touches of color are everywhere.

Several pretty black and white check suits shown in one place have collar and cuffs of black broadcloth, instead of the more usual black velvet.

SOUND ADVICE.
 New Yorker Tells How Millions Could Benefit Country.

Thomas Shayne, of New York City, points out an admirable manner for Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller to do some real good with their surplus money, instead of giving it toward founding libraries that are not always appreciated. In a letter addressed to the New York World Mr. Shayne writes:

There is a crying need of industrial schools in the mountain sections of Kentucky. It has been demonstrated by small industrial experiments that the mountain boys and girls of Kentucky are willing, even anxious, to work for an education.

Andrew Carnegie is giving millions to erect libraries in towns and cities. The ones which secure them usually have every educational facility. John D. Rockefeller is making the University of Chicago the best equipped school in the world. But the ones who attend the Chicago University can afford to pay their way. Kind-hearted men and women all over this broad and prosperous land are sending millions of dollars annually to Asia, Africa and other foreign lands to educate and Christianize black and yellow children who are carrying success, while right at home in the mountains of Kentucky is a field ripe for cultivation—a section where the material is sound and where the returns mean a citizenship which is the very backbone of this republic.

The Kentucky mountaineer has pride and sensitiveness, fundamental elements of good blood and good brains. Surrounding his home are mountains filled with mineral deposits, vast in quantity and rich in quality. He realizes that the proceeds of toll in the production of this great wealth will afford his children an opportunity to secure a first class education. Like the voice in the wilderness of old he calls for recognition. I feel safe in making the assertion that $100,000 contributed for industrial purposes in this section whereby the mountain boys could earn their way through school would do more good for the progress of civilization than $10,000,000 dropped into the jungles of Africa or the rice swamps of China.

FOURTY HOURS' PRAYER.
 Tomorrow at the late mass at 10 o'clock the Forty Hours' prayer will begin at St. Elizabeth's new and handsome church, located on East Burnett street. The altar and sanctuary will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. The ceremonies will close with benediction and the singing of the "Te Deum" on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.
 Louis Mann will come to Macauley's Monday to present his latest New York hit, "The Man Who Stood Still." It has been heralded as a drama rich in eccentric comedy in which Mann is always at his best. The engagement is for the entire week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

FATHER STAFFORD MEMORIAL.
 A bill has been introduced into the United States Senate to provide for the erection of a public statue to the memory of the late Dr. Stafford, noted throughout the United States as a pulpit and platform orator.

ST. PAUL'S NEW CATHEDRAL.
 Archbishop Ireland is pleased with the progress made in the erection of the new St. Paul Cathedral during his absence in Europe. When completed it will have cost more than $4,500,000.

AFTER LOUISVILLE'S EXAMPLE.
 The Catholic Women's League, of Portland, Ore., has opened attractive headquarters where ladies employed during the day may lunch and rest during the noon hour.

FATHERLY CATHOLICS.
 Dubuque Catholics are mourning the loss of John Keenan, who was President of a conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in that city for fifty years.

DUTCH COLLAR LEADS.

Neckwear is so beautiful this season, the designs are so many and the colors so exquisite, it is really difficult to make a choice. The collars are as flat now as they were high some six months ago. The Dutch collars are the most popular and come in a variety of materials. Extremely neat looking are the plain Gretchen collars finished with a dainty edging of French embroidery or a bit of Val lace.

Though the real Irish crochet collars are high priced, costing $5 and more, the same designs may be had in the imitation for half the money. Flows of the softer collars are trim and with insets of lace and embroidery. The heavier ones are ornamented with scallops and touches of embroidery worked in white or in color.

Another pretty idea in the Gretchen collar is in finishing the linen with a band of Irish lace medallions. This style of neckwear is exquisitely lovely when worn with a lace jabot.

TAMMANY'S START.

Tammany Hall, an organization that practically controls Democratic politics in New York City, to a certain extent dominates the politics of the Empire State, and an organization whose every move is watched by the entire nation, was organized by William Mooney, an Irishman by birth and an upholsterer by trade.

CLEANS SILVER QUICKLY.

Place two quarts of potato peelings and one quart of water in an iron frying pan or spider, cover and boil ten minutes; then drop in as many silver spoons, knives and forks as the water will cover; continue the boiling and in less than ten minutes they will look like new. Remove the silver, wash in usual manner, rubbing well with dry, soft towel.

PORTLAND "ALL STARS"

Top Row—Boardman, p. Baker, l. l. Bot. Row—Doherty, p. H. Lally, 2d b. The above are the latest photos of a fast bunch of local semi-professionals, which Howard Williams will captain this season, and who will meet the best teams of their class from Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and other cities. This team has the strongest aggregation of local stars ever gotten together in this city since the old Deppien team, and some of the members are sure to make a name for themselves in the gallery of baseball fame. They will open their season tomorrow with the

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The county board has appointed a committee to arrange for an Irish field day.

Binghamton Hibernians have appointed committees and will again this year hold their annual field day on July 4.

On Thursday night next Division 3 will hold its regular meeting and President Sullivan wants every member on hand.

Division 1 will meet in regular session Tuesday night, and the young men on the Entertainment Committee are sure of an ovation.

The order is prospering in Duluth. Meetings are large and enthusiastic, and plans for a big summer outing are now under consideration.

Whenever the Hibernians give a ball, dance, excursion, literary entertainment or parade in cities of the Eastern States, the Ladies' Auxiliary is always in evidence.

Next Friday night Division 2 will hold its first meeting after Easter, and as some unfinished business remains to be disposed of, a full attendance is desired.

Steps have been taken by the Hibernians of St. Paul to organize an athletic league. It is the intention to hold a big athletic meet at the Fair Grounds there this summer.

State President George J. Butler, members of the county board and other members of the order will go to Lexington tomorrow to take preliminary steps toward forming a division there.

St. Paul Hibernians have started their baseball league for this season. Michael S. Sheridan, who was elected County Judge at Milwaukee last week, served several terms as President of Division 1 in that city.

Mrs. J. H. Cummings, for twelve years County President at Minneapolis, and Mrs. Frank Sullivan, for eight years County Secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the same city, have been made recipients of their long and faithful work.

The Ladies' Auxiliary can well be proud of the part its members played in making the last ball a success. The Hibernians in Fayette county are waking up to their own interest. The establishment of a division at the Bluegrass capital will mean much to the Irish-Americans of that section.

It is not the few times you pay each month to your division as dues that makes the member or counts his success; it is the benefits he derives from being a member—not only sick benefits, but material benefits in other ways. If a member joins only to draw sick benefits he will be but a drone in the ranks.

MET SUDDEN DEATH.

Frank Bertelkamp, Superintendent of the Louisville Smelting Company's factory at North Chicago, was almost instantly killed when he fell in a plant owned by his company at Waukegan, Ill., on Wednesday morning. While inspecting the machinery his clothing caught in the shafting and he was whirled to death. Mr. Bertelkamp was born and raised in Louisville, and was an active member of Mackin Council. He was thirty-six years of age, and is survived by his wife and two children. The remains were brought to Louisville for burial and many sorrowing friends attended the funeral.

PROGRESS OF HOLY NAME.

According to the April number of the Holy Name Journal fifty-nine branches of the Holy Name Society in thirty-three dioceses have been established since January 1 of the present year. Archdiocesan and diocesan unions of the society now exist in New York, New Orleans, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and Buffalo. Another diocesan union is in course of formation in Trenton under the direction of the Right Rev. James A. McFaul, D. D. The establishment of these fifty-nine branches represent an increase in membership of 10,000 men.

ACCIDENT TO POLICEMAN.

Officer James Twoling is still suffering from injuries received at Fourth and Main streets last week. He was passing in a three-story building when a board fell from the roof and struck him on the head. It is not believed that his injuries are serious.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
No Symptoms Have Since Been Seen.
St. Louis, Mo., February 17th, 1908. A. We used one bottle of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a child who had a severe attack of nervousness, the medicine had a remarkable effect, she has completely recovered and no symptoms have since been seen. Finding it such a blessing among children, we shall always keep it on hand. SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Columbia, S. C., February 4th, 1908. I procured a bottle of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic for my little son who could not remain quiet and we feared he might get St. Vitus dance and had to keep him from school. This did him more good than any medicine he had used during a year and since its use 2 years ago he has had no recurrence. I recommended the Nerve Tonic to many friends and all derived benefit from it. I cannot say enough in its praise and best of all, it is so beneficial a medicine. Mrs. DAN MARR, 104 Richmond St.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample bottle to any address. Poor patients also get the medicine free.
Prepared by the Rev. FATHER KOENIG, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and now by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill.

SARTO'S EASTER DANCE.
Sarto Council, Y. M. I., of Owensboro, will give its annual Easter dance at the new Owensboro armory next Monday night. The committee in charge of arrangements is made up of President Charles H. Barbour, V. J. Greenwell, Robert Cox and Lawrence Mitchell. Invitations to the dance have been received by members of the order in Louisville.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Judge Kishey has been presented with white gloves at Drogheda as a token of the crimelessness of the district.

Mrs. Margaret Campbell is dead at her home in Ardee. She was the mother of District Councillor Martin Campbell.

Michael Magrath, Tipperary, was elected a member of the Limerick County Council in place of his father, deceased.

St. Patrick's church at Dundalk is to be embellished by the addition of two back towers, and the sanctuary is to be lined with mosaic works.

Thomas Kavanaugh, whose parents were evicted from a farm near Drogheda twenty years ago, is about to be reinstated through the work of the Gaelic League.

Mrs. Bridget Smith, of Ballinabrough, has been committed to the Monaghan Asylum. Grief over the death of her husband two years ago unsettled her reason.

The Clerk of Killybeg Urban Council, M. Healy, at the request of the members decided not to press for the present his resignation of the office, which he has held for nearly twenty-four years.

At Killarney Board of Guardians Dr. D. J. Haasaffin was unanimously elected Medical Officer of the Milltown Dispensary district, in room of his father, who resigned after forty years' service.

Thomas McKee, eighty-five years old, one of the best known men in Crossin, is dead, and his loss is mourned by the entire community.

Heavy rains have brought farm labor to a standstill in every section of the country.

On the occasion of his transfer to Nenagh his late parishioners at Toomevara, County Tipperary, prepared for presentation to the Rev. Patrick Hogan an illuminated address artistically decorated by Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, of Dublin.

The release of Patrick Sweeney, of Kildare, Queens county, who had undergone six months imprisonment in Fallmore jail in connection with a cattle-drive, was the occasion of a stirring demonstration recently at Rathfriland.

The Monaghan Guardians elected as Clerk of the union and District Council Patrick Tait, who received thirty-two votes to sixteen for James Boylan. Considerable interest centered in the election, and fifty out of fifty-five Guardians attended at the meeting.

Four shots are reported to have been fired into the house of Lawrence Healy, of Fox Hill, about four miles from Cort. The windows were broken, but no other damage was done. Healy and his family are very popular in the district, and no reason can be assigned for the outrage.

DEATH IN SHELBY COUNTY.

William F. Cotter, an old and respected resident of Shelby county, who died early Easter Sunday morning, was buried Monday morning from the Church of the Annunciation by the solemn requiem mass. The Rev. Father John H. Riley, celebrant of the mass, was assisted by the Rev. Father Hugh Daly, of Elizabethtown, and the Rev. Fathers John J. Fitzgerald and J. A. O'Grady, of Louisville. A large concourse followed the remains to their last resting place in Grove Hill cemetery.

IMPRESSIVE RITES.

The chapel of Sacred Heart Retreat, on the Newburg road, was crowded last Sunday afternoon by Catholics from every section of Louisville, who desired to witness the ceremonies attending the reception of the habit by several postulants of the Passionist order. Brother Francis Xavier, whose name in the world was Daniel McKee, made his profession. Paul Smith, of Cincinnati; William Quinn, of St. Aloysius' parish, this city, and M. A. Jungles, of Parsons, Kas., received the habit. The impressive ceremonies were conducted by the Rev. Father Wilfrid Avery, Master of Novices.

INJURED FIREMEN.

William Doyle, of the No. 4 Engine Company, who was injured while en route to a fire several weeks ago, is somewhat improved, but he is not yet able to return to duty. Eugene Sullivan, of the No. 3 Hook and Ladder Company, will not be able to resume his duties in the department for several weeks. The truck upon which he was answering a fire alarm struck a deep hole in the street and he was thrown off, nighting on his head and back.
